The La Pierre House.—On Wedgesday graing last, we attended, by invitation of the Mesers. Taker, the gentlemanly proprietors of this newly erected against establishment, an entertriment given in honor of opening the house. About three hundred gentlemen sate fown to the most sumptuous dinner it was ever our lot to behold. The bill of fars was printed on white satin, and contained more variety, more crast dinner more costly wines than we have ever even read of. After the cloth was cleared away, saveral speeches and toast were delivered, which we regret to state, the short time of the occurrence before our publication prevents our giving in fall. Colonel Fage was in the chair, which well-seed an eloquent and complimentary adverse. Mr. Edwards the owner both of this anothe clirard, in answer to eloquent and complimentary speeches made an eloquent application speech, filled with sound windom. A nature of other gentlement, and complimentary speeches made are regretable practical speech, filled with sound windom. A nature of other gentlement, of the most of them, a stranger and complimentary speeches made are regretable than a stranger of other gentlement. Compliance and not aware there was any body present who have up and did our best, but that was very poor in comparison with the speeches of the eloquent gentlement present. Compliance were showered on the fears. Taber for their energy and enterprise, and thay deverwed all, for it was an enterfeinment that could not be heaten. The La Pierre is the most magnificent hotel we ever away as well as the most complete in its arrangements. It completely puts an extinguisher on the Astor. The gorreous furniture, the immense mirrors, the coatly paintings, the massive silver goblets, cups and bowls which adorn the balles—altogether eclipse the wildest dreams of Eastern magnificence. It is a palace we do not believe can be beaten that by dew monarche of the old world—a palace erected by the energy and enterprise of a single American citizen.

The Great Comet.

Comets are things with tails,
So are rate;
So are rate;
Through the air the former sail—
But the latter, without fail,
Lyon's Powder, surer still
Than any cat, the request will kill;
And his Powder, (see the Press,)
Pats the bed bug in distress—
Blaying the mand reaches too;
Serves 'em right, I think, don' you?

SPHCIAL NOTICES.

CHALLENGE—TO JOHN MORRISSEY.—IT IS ENtirely unnecessary for me to state that I fairly and undisputably was the winner of our last contest, twenty-five hendred disinterested persons being present, and all, but perhaps ten interested ones, being satisfied that such was the fact. But, in order to convince the public and your few prejudiced friends that I am your superior in a twenty-four joot ring contest and in liberality. I am willing to give the disputed money to any charitable institution, vir. Fire department widows and orphans' fund, or to any other charitable object you can name, and make a new match to meet you again for $5,000, to come off within six weeks from this day. Man and money ready at my house, $234 Chabham street. JAMES SULLIVAN, Champion, not Irvin's champion.
